It's that time of the year when scrolling through Facebook I am surrounded by all the posts about graduation and how hard it is going to be to say goodbye to a certain college and all the friends that come along with that. As I was going through these posts, all of them had quotes to go along with pictures upon pictures, and then I stumbled upon this quote:

"How lucky I am to have something that makes saying goodbye so hard."

- Winnie the Pooh

It immediately hit home for me. As I prepare to say goodbye to Hope, I realize just how lucky I am to have spent the year here. I am struck by how quickly this year has gone by and wish it would slow down just a little bit. When I first started back in August, I thought that June seemed so far away, but somehow I blinked and here we are.

Coming into this year I knew that Hope was a special place. I had met not only Shawn at LCLC but also a lot of our youth, and knew that I was in for an amazing year. An amazing year is exactly how I would explain my year here, although it is hard to find the right words to fully explain what this year has meant to me. As I sit here I have a montage of the year playing through my head with amazing memories one after another. There is not a day that I've spent at Hope that hasn't left me without a smile on my face, although some days it may have been harder to see than others, and I realize just how lucky I am.

I've gained not only another support system, new friends, but more importantly a new home with one of the best church families any one could ask for. I don't think I will ever be able to find the right words to express how grateful I am for all that Hope has done for me. Each of you has welcomed me so warmly into this community and has made this one of the hardest goodbyes I've had to make. I am truly blessed.

So how do you prepare to say goodbye to a place that you now consider another home, I'm honestly not sure but it's not easy, that much I know. I would give anything to stay another year, or even for forever, and trust me I've tried to figure out how to make that happen, but I know that I have to start this next chapter of my life. Just as God called me here to Hope, he is calling me to Philadelphia to continue my discernment and the process to become a pastor. I know that when I am home I will be back to visit, and because of that I guess this is not a goodbye but rather a see you soon. Thank you for giving me something that makes saying goodbye so hard and see you soon.

Opportunities to Give/Serve

Why? Because! A Social Gathering for a Worthy Cause

Several WNY Pastors are taking over a local restaurant for an afternoon for a great cause. On Sunday, May 1 from 11-3pm, 15% of the bill and 100% of the tips generated at The Tavern at Windsor Park (on Transit Road) will support Lutheran Charities of WNY and the agencies they support. The best part: All of the servers will be Lutheran Pastors, including Pastor Shawn. This will be a high energy, wonderful event and you will not want to miss it.

Men's Service Weekend at LCLC

The Men of Hope, Brother's Keeper, Inc., are headed to LCLC from May 20-22 for another round of roofing and 'ground' projects at the camp. Many of our youth are growing to love LCLC and are experiencing the love of God there. Help us make the camp the best place it can be for the hundreds of kids that will encounter God's grace there this summer. In an effort to make this intergenerational, we hope some dads and grandpas will bring their sons and grandsons as well. To discuss detailed plans and tools to bring, we will have a meeting of the minds at 9:30am on Sunday, May 15 in Pastor Shawn's office.

Camperships

Last year the youth of Hope went to over $10,000 worth of camp programming. For many families, especially those with multiple children, camp simply isn't an option at over $400/week. For that reason, both Hope and LCLC are committed to making sure every youth who wants to go to camp is financially able. To help, please consider making a contribution to our campership fund. Generally a campership is around $120/child/week. Any donation is gratefully appreciated and will make a tremendous impact on a young person's faith life.

A Future With Hope

At a meeting this April, Hope's council and a newly formed steering committee laid the ground work for some recent conversation regarding the future of Hope. Notes from that meeting can be found elsewhere in this newsletter, but we wanted to make sure you knew how we could help. This Summer Hope plans to raise the first $100,000 of our campaign "A Future With Hope." The specific focus of this portion of the campaign is to address our curb appeal, parking lot, and serve as seed money for what the congregation will determine comes next. To help support this bold endeavor please consider contributing some of the following ways:

1. Donate. To make a gift to the campaign, simply write a check to "A Future With Hope" and place it in the offering basket or drop it off in the main office of church. Contributions will be recorded over the life of the campaign, and donors recognized appropriately as God's vision for Hope becomes a reality.
2. Adirondack Chairs. This Spring, Hope is building and selling sturdy and stylish Adirondack chairs perfect for the lake, the campsite, the backyard or porch. The chairs, which retail for $250, will be available for $150 a chair, $275 for 2 chairs, or $500 for 4 chairs. An order form will soon be available in your email or on the church facebook page as well as in hard copy form at church. With enough help, we hope to have all the chairs built by Memorial Day Weekend.
3. Golf Tournament. On Sunday, August 21 at 12pm foursomes from around the area will tee off at Turkey Run for a nine hole scramble tournament & banquet. Details are still being worked out, but mark your calendars today and if you are interested in helping plan the event please contact Pastor Shawn.
4. Niagara Chocolates. Boxes of Niagara Chocolates are available to sell at your local business, place of employment, or school. Please sign the boxes out of the main office at church. Each box of 50 bars sold at $1 raises $25.

A Future With Hope

On Sunday, April 17 members of Hope gathered for a listening post around the future of Hope Lutheran Church. The reason for the meeting started with a conversation Church Council began in January. After seeing how richly God has been blessing Hope, we began to ask how God might be calling us to respond in order to best live into the future God has in store for us.

The listening post began with a conversation at tables around how we have seen God at work among us. Highlights included our various outreach ministries from Brother's Keeper to the recent VA drive, the quality and diversity of our worship, and many answers relating to youth and faith formation. Members who have been at Hope the longest as well as newer members agreed that God is most certainly at work among us. From there, Pastor Shawn asked if our ministries may have outgrown our current facility. While we are certainly making do, when you reflect on the card table in the offices that serves as a Sunday School room, the quilters who move their supplies from one end of church to the other every week because they no longer fit in the Quilt Room, and the constant setting up and taking down of tables in our parish hall because of the many ways we use the space, the answer is yes. But while this may come as news to some, the founders of Hope saw this day coming. Pastor Shawn shared with those gathered the original architectural drawing that included plans for the church to build on in two phases: first for a Christian education wing, and again for a new sanctuary. Perhaps they were thinking of us today. May we be so bold as to think about the church we're building 55 years from now.

After the discussion Tim Sonner and Scott Bley addressed those gathered. First, Mr. Sonner described what a multiuse building on the east lawn might look like. Items highlighted were spaces for our groups to run and crowds to assemble as well as an outreach center for the under privileged and small group space. Scott Bley then described the immediate next steps and introduced the campaign: A Future With Hope. The Future with Hope committee has yet to lay out the goals or path forward, but we do know that plans include raising $100,000 this summer and an additional $250,000 starting in the fall.

Everyone is certainly aware of the gravity of this conversation, but as daunting as it may seem we are still excited. We're excited about what God is up to among us. We recognize that we have been distinctly blessed with energy and passion and youthfulness and life. And we know that God isn't done with us yet. We only ask that God would strengthen our bodies and our hearts that we may listen carefully for his will and boldly follow where God is calling us to go.

Breathe.

From Chris LiPuma, Youth Director

Breathe. Take a moment to inhale, watch as your stomach expands and the air fills your lungs. Breathe.

Something as simple as breathing we take for granted every single day. When was the last time you even thought about breathing? As a kid I loved to swim in Lake Ontario up near Fort Niagara. At a young age I loved the water, and it didn't matter the temperature or how murky the water was. You could bet I would be the first one in. I still remember this day so vividly even though it was when I was just a boy:

It was a typical summer evening and we were at the beach swimming. Being the dare devil kid I was I decided to swim out a little further than I normally did on this night, past the buoys. I could hear my dad yelling to me to stay in close but I just pretended I couldn't hear him and kept bobbing up and down and moving further out into the lake. That's when everything went wrong. As I continued to bob up and down I was unaware that I swam into sea weed...probably why there were buoys in the first place. As I hit the bottom I realized I had tangled myself in the sea weed and was beginning to run out of air. I started panicking, thrashing all about on the lake bottom. I remember the sheer terror and panic taking over my body as I began to run out of air. Being a kid when I found myself in trouble I would just scream for my Dad, but he was a ways away on the beach and I was on the bottom of the lake. I remember my body, the way it felt as I struggled in the sea weed, the feeling of having no air, no life in my lungs. Just about the time I had given up all hope I became free. I was able to move my limbs again and without any hesitation I pushed as hard off the bottom floor as I could and darted for the surface. When my head reached above the water I gasped for air. I still remember that feeling of taking that breath, how amazing it was—No other feeling can compare. I sat there in the water breathing slow and deep breaths. How good those felt! I truly appreciated each breath. In and out. In and out.

Maybe you've had a similar experience, seems everyone has a near drowning or near death experience (the way my dad tells it I was only under the water for a few seconds, but for me it seemed like eternity...ok maybe I was freaking out a bit and overplayed it in my head. But to me it was scary!) But as I reflect on that day I still see that kid struggling in the seaweed on the lake floor. I look at my life and realize not much has changed! Instead of sea weed, life, responsibilities, deadlines are grabbing at us. Maybe you have that feeling too, you're stuck on the lake floor desperately hoping for that next breath of life. The harder we try and get out it seems to only make things worse. But it was only until I stopped the thrashing, the panicking and became still until I was able to free myself.

The human experience has changed over time. Today it seems we are blasted with all this information being thrown at us and it is sometimes hard to decipher everything. We have so many responsibilities and it seems that there is never enough time in the day. But picture Sunday morning for a moment, how still it is, you can say maybe it's the only time you are able to take that deep breath...unless your Pastor Shawn. But that gift of slowing down and taking those deep breaths are available every single day. In your storms and in your chaos take those deep breaths, find that inner peace, be the eye in that storm. We have a God who has breathed life into you and who is making you new! Sometimes we just need to stop and just breathe. Taking a breath is a miracle in itself, and I pray that you may see that. I pray that in our crazy and hectic lives we can just stop and take that deep breath we all need.

Breathe. Inhale. Exhale. Life is good.

The Spirit of God has made me, And the breath of the almighty gives me life"— Job 33:4

The end to another preschool year is quickly approaching! We will end our year with our graduation program & ice cream social on Wed. May 25th. It has been a very busy year (and we still have a lot to do)!

We would like to thank all of our parents, first, for choosing Hope Preschool for your child this year. Second, for all your help & support throughout the year. We wouldn't have a successful school year without your support!

As always, please consider making a donation to our financial assistance program. Your donations truly make a difference in assisting children come to Hope at a discount, while not burdening the preschool financially. Donations can be placed in the offering plate clearly marked for the preschool financial program.

HOPE is Happening!
